Milling & Baking News

THE GRAIN 100

- The Grain 100 consists of the top multiple facility grain companies and cooperatives in North America according to total corporate grain storage capacity. (One hundred multiple facility companies with more than 6 million bushels storage are listed in this section.)
- Statistics for individual facilities are listed by state in the Port, River, Terminal and Subterminal section.
- Because country elevator numbers are included, the total number of facilities and the total corporate grain storage capacity figures may not necessarily be the sum of individual facility listings in the Port, River, Terminal and Subterminal section.
- Conversions of tonnes to bushels are approximates.
- Throughout the directory, leased facilities are listed under the company which currently operates the elevator with lessors designated in parentheses.
- Facilities owned by a consortium of more than two are not credited to any individual member.
- City or company names in parentheses following an individual facility location are for clarification purposes when referring to the Port, River, Terminal and Subterminal section. If the company has more than one facility in a city, the number follows in parentheses.

HUMPHREY
Employees' Belt Manlift

Production goes up when a Humphrey employees' belt manlift goes in. You save man-hours by eliminating stair-climbing time and fatigue. A Humphrey manlift provides simultaneous up and down transportation, eliminates waiting and delays. It costs less to install and maintain than conventional elevators and takes only a fraction of the space.

Important SAFETY FEATURES of the HUMPHREY Employees' Belt Manlift

1. In-track safety stops. They break the electrical circuit, applying the magnetic disc brake to stop the manlift, if a rider fails to dismount at the top landing. Also furnished at bottom of manlift when a pit is required.

2. Overhead safety stop at the top of the manlift breaks the electrical circuit, applying the magnetic disc brake to stop the manlift, when tubular bar is dislodged by a rider.

3. Foot treadle safety stop. Available for mounting at bottom of manlift. It breaks the electrical circuit, applying the magnetic disc brake to stop the manlift, when rider steps on treadle board.

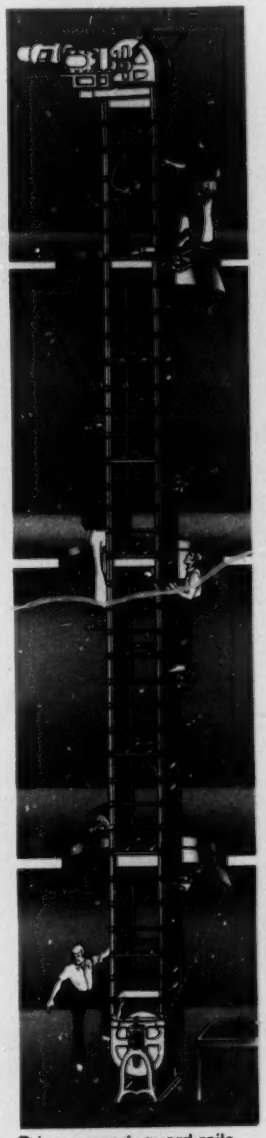
4. Fixed or moveable safety cones for mounting beneath floor openings on the up-travel side. The moveable type is equipped with a switch that breaks the electrical circuit, applying the magnetic disc brake to stop the manlift, if cone is bumped by a rider.

5. Start-stop control rope is always available to riders on both the up and down sides of the belt. Manlift can be stopped by rider at any point by pulling the control rope in the direction of travel.

6. All Humphrey manlift belting is tested and certified for manlift service.

7. Magnetic disc brake, mounted on motor shaft extension, is applied upon loss of power to motor.

8. Centrifugal force-operated "Saf-T-Stop"™ brake or electronically-actuated "Saf-T-Stop"™ brake with safety hold-back are available where required by state or provincial codes. They are always available as extra-cost options.



Drive support, guard rails and gates are not shown for simplicity in depicting the belt manlift.

U.S. COMMERCIAL GRAIN STORAGE BY STATE

Off-farm commercial grain storage capacity increased by 839,790,000 bus, or 10%, in 1986, for the largest year-to-year increase ever, both on the basis of percentage and in actual bushels.

The 839.8-million-bu increase in off-farm storage capacity in 1986 contrasts with gains of only 173.5 million bus in 1985 and 4.6 million bus in 1984, according to data of the National Agricultural Service of the Agricultural Statistics Board, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The 1986 increase in off-farm storage capacity, the 15th consecutive year of gain, is even more remarkable when considering that it is based on an 11-month period rather than a full year. U.S.D.A. changed its year-end storage capacity measurement to a Dec. 1 basis from the previous Jan. 1 date. Off-farm storage capacity on Dec. 1 was 9,126,930,000 bus, up from the previous peak of 8,287,140,000 bus on Jan. 1, 1986, and compared with 8,113,670,000 bus on Jan. 1, 1985.

Coincident with the steady rise in storage capacity has been an almost equally consistent increase in carryover of wheat, coarse grains and rice.

Since 1972, the last year in which off-farm storage capacity decreased, all-grain carryover has jumped from 73.8 million tonnes to 181.5 million tonnes at the end of 1985-86, an increase of 146%.

Of the 839,790,000 bus of storage capacity increase during 1986, the aggregate of increases in Iowa, Illinois and Nebraska, at 436,160,000 bus, exceeded the increases in all other states combined. Iowa had the largest jump, strengthening its position as the state with the second largest amount of commercial off-farm storage, at 1,084,790,000 bus, up 181,860,000 bus, or 20%, from 902,930,000 bus a year earlier.

While Illinois remained in first place in off-farm commercial storage space, its lead diminished. Off-farm capacity in Illinois as of Dec. 1 was 1,149,320,000 bus, up 143,200,000 bus, or 14%, from 1,006,120,000 bus on Jan. 1, 1986.

Nebraska's storage capacity, the nation's fourth largest at 813,420,000 bus as of Dec. 1, was up 111,100,000 bus, or 16%, from 702,320,000 bus.

Capacity in Kansas was third largest, at 913,300,000 bus, up 32,230,000 bus, or 4%, from 881,070,000 bus the year before. Fifth largest off-farm storage capacity was in Texas, at 868,580,000 bus as of Dec. 1, up 33,400,000, or 4%, from 835,180,000 bus 11 months earlier. Minnesota ranked sixth in commercial off-farm storage capacity, at 555,100,000 bus, up 62,650,000 bus, or 13%, from 492,450,000 bus on Jan. 1, 1986. A huge gap separated the six largest states and the seventh ranking state, Indiana, which held 358,400,000 bus. The six largest ranking states have a combined off-farm storage capacity of 5,384,510,000 bus, or 59% of the nation's total.

In 1986, 30 states showed increases in off-farm storage capacity while 10 states were lower and two states plus New England were unchanged. Several states other than Iowa, Illinois and Nebraska posted large increases in commercial off-farm storage. While only four states had capacity increases larger than 10 million bus in 1985, 16 states had increases in storage greater than 10 million bus in 1986. Biggest percentage increase of any state was in Utah where capacity was 30,930,000 bus, up 10,920,000 bus, or 55%, from 20,010,000 a year earlier.

The four states with the largest increases in storage capacity — Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska and Minnesota — also ranked as the leading corn producing states. In the largest wheat producing states, storage capacity rose in Kansas by 32,230,000 bus, or 4%; North Dakota, up 31,430,000 bus, or 16%; Texas, 33,400,000 bus, or 4%; Ohio, up 22,470,000, or 8%; Colorado, up 16,420,000, or 14%; Washington, up 7,380,000 bus, or 3%, and Oklahoma, up 6,060,000 bus, or 2%.

Biggest decreases in storage capacity were in Alabama, at 5,840,000 bus, or 13%, and Maryland, at 3,650,000 bus, or 7%. Major wheat producing states with decreases in commercial off-farm storage capacity were Oregon, off 1,300,000 bus, or 2%, and Montana, off 40,000 bus. ■

- Industry leaders tell us that one of the greatest hazards to large stocks of stored commodities is the potential damage that can be done by unforeseen and unpredictable swings in the weather. Major changes in atmospheric conditions have a devastating effect on commodities of all kinds. . .unless workable crisis management programs are well laid out, and quickly initiated.
- But there is a better way to protect the value of your stored commodities. One that's easy to administer, and which provides on-going retention of their marketing or processing value at all times, and under all conditions.
- It's the PERTECH CQC System: a state-of-the-art program that assures continuing, fully-integrated quality control.

No longer is it necessary to have on-site personnel do time-consuming bin-by-bin meter reading, or to guess at when and how long to operate aerations fans or heaters. The PERTECH CQC System does all of that for you, and delivers the information to you, instantaneously, at one central location. With CQC you get total control and maximum value retention. . .the kind that brings peace of mind, and simplifies your entire management program!

There's a PERTECH representative in your area who can bring all of this information to you at your convenience. Whenever you are ready to discuss planned value retention as an alternate to costly, uncertain crisis management.

Write or call us today for more information, and learn how the PERTECH CQC System will save its full cost in a single season of operation.

Value Retention. That's our business. PERTECH.

FARM TO

Most grain isn't grown where it's needed. Nor is it harvested when it's needed most. Therefore, planning, scheduling and coordination of grain movements presents a tremendous logistical challenge.

For more than a century, Cargill has risen to meet that challenge. We provide expertise and logistical knowhow to help growers and consumers adjust their marketing strategies to these dislocations in time and geography. We help them store, condition, process and transport millions of tons of grain annually.

Our responsive marketing organization overcomes the problems posed by time and space to meet the needs of growers and consumers alike. That's why Cargill has become the "to" in "Farm to Market."

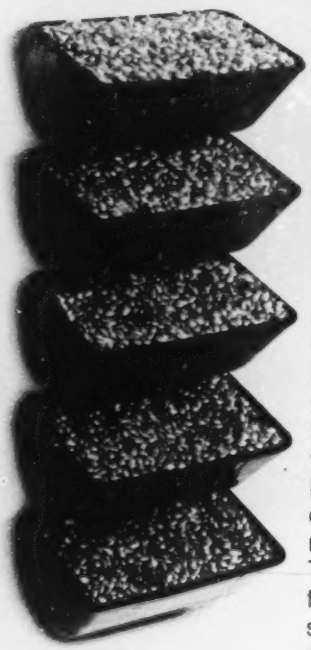
Increase leg capacity Up to 50%



Use Dura-Buket low profile plastic elevator buckets.

Dura-Buket's LP bucket is capable of increasing leg capacity by as much as 50% over other conventionally designed plastic elevator buckets. This is possible due to its unique design which permits closer spacing. Dura-Buket's LP design is a modification of our standard SS bucket made by reducing the side and back wall depths. This modification does not affect the front lip or body angle and customers still receive the same superior discharge as with our SS bucket.

We would be happy to calculate the desired capacity for you. Please call us and provide the following information.

_____ Head pulley diameter
_____ Shaft speed or belt speed (Feet Per Minute)
_____ Present bucket spacing
_____ Present capacity
_____ Desired capacity
_____ Belt width
_____ Leg height (shaft center to shaft center)
_____ Present bucket size

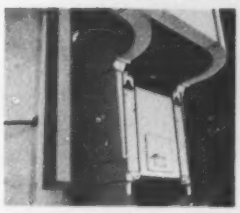
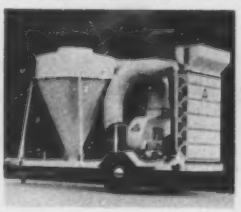
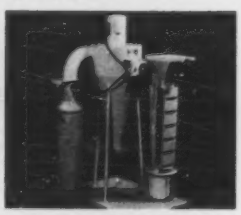
Now there are three ways to go with Kice Quality Aspirators.



1 MULTI-ASPIRATOR: Heavy-duty, fixed-unit aspirator is designed for large volumes. Operates efficiently in even the busiest elevators. Separates dust and dockage/F.M. from grain. Change easily from one grain to another. Uses no screens or moving parts.



2 PORTABLE ASPIRATOR: Mounted on a road-worthy trailer, the unit can be set up over the grain dump pit or used for custom-cleaning on location. Use during winter months or off season, when work loads permit. Handles capacities up to 4,000 B.P.H.



3 MINI-ASPIRATOR: Fast, accurate and simple testing of dockage/F.M. Now elevators can test all incoming grain, even during the harvest rush, as part of the moisture and test weight operation. Provides reliable and repeatable results.
